What you need
You can join the Zoom meeting with your internet browser on a Windows, Mac, or Linux computer, or by phone (although if you're not using a smartphone, you will neither be able to see others nor be seen by them). If you're using a computer it should have both a microphone and a camera.

Here's a page that spells out the minimum operating system and CPU requirements of the Zoom platform: http://onlinezoomappdownload.com/system-requirements-zoom-rooms/.

Some hints regarding video meetings
*Please mute yourself upon entering the space. (If you're participating by phone, 6 will both mute and unmute you.) Background noise from the house, barking dogs, and cranky kids are distracting. If you have that capacity, we'd prefer that during presentations you ask questions via the "chat" function. If you do not have that function, please be recognized by the chair before asking an audio question. Check out the links below for more hints.
